Stephen H. Hammond is president and founder of Christian Values Investing Inc. (CVI) a fee-only investment management and financial planning firm located in Statesboro, Georgia. Convinced that Christians would desire to have their Christian values aligned with their investments and that they would be better equipped to handle their personal finances if they were counseled from a Biblical perspective, he established CVI in 1993. Christian Values Investing is one of the first "fee-only" investment advisory firms in the United States with an emphasis in Biblical Responsible Investing. In 2005 Mr. Hammond founded Covenant Financial Ministries, a non-profit organization set up to teach Biblical stewardship and God's financial principles. These seminars give practical guidance in applying biblical wisdom, money management, and helpful instructions to equip people of all ages to handle money God's way.
